This course is being sponsored by the United States Attorney's Office of Maryland, National Center of Biomedical Research Training Academy and the ESCJA. This course is designed specifically for certified local, state or federal law enforcement only. This course provides officers with an overview of general security features employed by the US government to establish the validity of government documents, as well as known methods used to alter or counterfeit the types of documents commonly presented to law enforcement officers. Several government documents are discussed, including identity cards, driver’s licenses, and social security cards.

All officers need to have registered for a FEMA SID# and have that number with them for the beginning of the class. https://cdp.dhs.gov/FEMASID/

Upon completion of this course, the student should be able to:

1. Identify common characteristics associated with counterfeited and altered identity documents;
2. Determine whether or not an identity document is acceptable, using the criteria presented;
3. Demonstrate methods to use to detect situations in which an impostor is attempting to use a genuine document;
4. Identify security features incorporated into government documents to deter fraud.

This course is designed to meet requirements as mandated by the Maryland Police and Correctional Training Commissions and to meet the annual in-service requirements.
